PYTHIAN CARNIVAL A GREAT SUCCESS

Cosmopolitan Shows Are Fine Attractions and Attendance is Good and Best Days Yet to Come.

NO OBJECTIONABLE FEATURES

The success of the Carnival of the Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, was assured from the first day, when 750 paid admissions were recorded, the best first day ever reported by a carnival here.

The attendance was much larger Tuesday and as the genuine merits of the many attractions are becoming known, the patronage is increasing every day.

The Cosmopolitan shows have never been here before, but all who have seen them will testify that a better, cleaner, or more meritorious list of carnival attractions has not been in Hopkinsville.

There are twelve or fourteen of these shows and the usual list of free attractions. The admission at the gate is 10 cents, the shows inside are 10 cents each and the Ferris Wheel, Merry-go-Round and similar features are 5 cents each. In addition to these there are several booths where photographs are taken, pictures shown, etc.

There is a country store well supplied with valuable articles and souvenirs. The shows are arranged in circular form in the park and the grounds are much more attractive than when there is no order or system in the arrangement. They are numbered from 1 up to 17.

The Animal Show, the Outlaw Show and the Minstrel Show are all excellent attractions. Puzzledom, the Coliseum, the Crazy House, the Penny Arcade, the Ghost Show and the Man from Cork also are well worth the money. The Little Horse, said to be the smallest horse in the world, is a great curiosity. Foxy Grandpa and Alice are among the most popular features. The Carousel and the Ferris Wheel of course get their share of business.

There are about a dozen concessions, some of them entirely new.

One of these is a rope ladder stretched at an angle of about 45 degrees from the ground to an electric light post about ten feet from the ground and a dollar is given to any person who will climb the ladder. Many have tried, but few have succeeded. The man with the sledge is also there with a machine to register the force of the blow that is struck.

There are candy stands, ice cream cones, corn poppers and other stands where refreshments of one kind and another can be obtained.

There are no gambling devices, no fakirs on the grounds and there will be no throwing of confetti.

The general manager of the Cosmopolitan shows is J. R. Anderson, who has an office in the park and gives his personal attention to all details.

His press agent and handy man is Charlie Evans, the former press agent with Buffalo Bill's wild west show.

The Executive Committee of the Knights is headed by Fred Callard and he is ably assisted by many of the members.

The Carnival Company is policing the grounds with half a dozen experienced officers, headed by Booth Morris.

A fine feature is Prof. Campbell's band of 24 pieces, which gives concerts every afternoon on the streets and every evening in the park.

The best days are yet to come, unless the weather conditions interfere.

THE BOARD'S PLAIN DUTY.

Kansas City Editor Outlines Plan For Redeeming Waterworks.

The board of public works has an urgent duty to perform in regard to the city water department, and at the same time an opportunity is afforded to distinguish itself from all its predecessors by adopting a systematic businesslike policy in the management of the plant.

Although it seems useless to expect the same degree of efficiency under municipal ownership as obtains in private corporation ownership, the members of the board owe it alike to themselves and to the city to approximate the methods of a business corporation as closely as possible in the management of the waterworks.

If the members find it incompatible with the exigencies of their private business affairs to give their personal attention to the work they should at least see to it that the heads of the department are competent business men who will give their whole time to their duties and, above that, policies shall be entirely eliminated from the water department.

The insubordination, incompetency, jealousy and recrimination which have been shown to exist among the employees, from highest to lowest, present a situation hardly less dangerous and disgraceful than the recent disclosures in regard to the unsafe and inefficient condition of the plant.

The plain duty of the board is first to weed out the incompetents and those who are playing politics and next to reorganize at least the mechanical branches of the department on a strict, nonpartisan, business basis.

The people of the community are tired of the everlasting squabbles and alarms in regard to the water supply that have come to light with each new administration as the "plant demands for money to do things which should have been done and were represented falsely to have been done years ago—Kansas City (Mo.) Journal.

CITIES QUIT BUSINESS.

Municipal Lighting Plants Prove Expensive Luxuries.

The city electric plant of Laurens, S. C., was installed in 1897 at a cost of $30,000. The generating plant has now been shut down, a contract for current having been made with a private company.

In 1905 Pontotoc, Miss., purchased the local electric plant for $8,000. Two years later it sold it for $3,000 because, as the mayor writes, "it didn't pay expenses." Another citizen writes that the sale was due to "dissatisfaction with municipal management."

Portland, Ind., installed an electric plant in 1892 at a cost of $42,000. Six years later the generating plant was shut down, and a contract for current was made with a private company.

The village electric plant of Lockport, Ill., installed at a cost of $20,000, was leased about a year ago to the sanitary district of Chicago for a nominal consideration, as the plant was a failure.

The electric light and water plant of Hickman, Ky., installed by the city at a cost of $80,000, was leased in 1906 to the Hickman Ice and Coal company for a term of twenty years. The mayor assigns as the reason that the plant was not self sustaining.

Private Companies Better. All this talk of municipal ownership which has been going on for some time here of late is ill advised, in my opinion. It isn't practical, and every city has found to its cost that poorer service has been derived from municipally owned plants than from the corporations owned and run on business principles by private capitalists.

Statistics bear me out in this. You can take 100 towns that have municipally owned lighting plants and you will find all sorts of schedules prevailing—moonlight schedules, dark night schedules and, in fact, everything but a clear schedule for light every night at a stated price, no matter what weather conditions prevail. You can't tell anything about the cost of these plants, and you get poorer service.

The temptation to inject politics into the management of these municipal plants is too strong for the average man to resist, and in most every municipally owned plant you will find it run to the benefit of the ruling party and not to the benefit of the citizens.

The tendency is to employ friends of the management, and the result is of divorcing business of the city from politics is both. As long as human nature remains the same it will not be done, no matter how much you wish. Hon. W. R. Burnett, Mayor of Springfield, O.

Careless Management. The auditing department of Elkhart, O., has just made a full report of its investigation of the municipal water works. Among the points of interest in this report are the following: Deficit for 1907, $85,005.79; at least 25 per cent of the water pumped not accounted for; important meters found to be out of order for periods varying from one month to two years. The department recommends a 33 per cent increase in the rates and adds the following suggestive paragraph:

"We believe that the board of public service should keep in closer touch with the affairs and financial condition of the water department from month to month and require monthly reports from the waterworks superintendent as to amount of water pumped, supplies which probably will be needed during the coming month, and statement of supplies on hand, etc."

CROPS WITHOUT RAIN.

Tillage Methods Employed by Farmers of Palestine.

In Syria and Palestine the farmers need no rain. From the beginning of April until October there is practically no rain, yet in July the fields teem with a vigorous growth of watermelons, tomatoes, cucumbers, etc., all flourishing without artificial watering. It is at this time that no rain has fallen for many weeks. In fact, the Syrian peasant from the moment his seed has been sown prays that no rain may fall.

During the period of growth of a crop the surface of the soil to a depth of six or eight inches is perfectly dry and loose. Below this surface layer and to be found in soil in which the roots extend and grow vigorously. In this moist subsoil plants continue to grow until late autumn. When the crop is removed in the autumn the rains commence, and the land is plowed after each heavy rain as soon as the soil begins to dry.

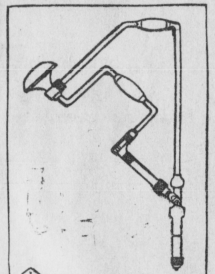

Two primary objects are kept in view in plowing—to furnish a favorable surface for taking up all the water and to prevent its upward evaporation from the subsoil. The great point is to keep the upper six inches of soil perfectly loose and friable, so that the moisture from below is not drawn upward and lost in evaporation, but does not ascend higher than the compact subsoil that is not broken up by the plow. For this reason the plowing is shallow, averaging from four to six inches in depth. When the time for sowing the seed arrives the land is plowed to a depth of about six inches, and the seed is sown from an arrangement attached to the plow, falls on the damp subsoil and is covered by the soil closing over behind the plowshare. From this time the upper stratum of loose soil prevents the escape of moisture upward toward the wet subsoil on which the seeds rest and into which their roots after the process of germination spread.

A HANDY BIT BRACE.

Enables Operator to Bore Holes in Corners and at Any Angle.

Carpenters should erect a monument to a man in New York, for he has overcome the difficulty they have long encountered for years of boring holes in corners. This man has invented a bit brace that will bore a hole in any corner and at any angle.

The brace has a supporting bar of angular form that holds within it the rotating driver, one end of which engages and turns the socket that holds the bit. The cut describes this tool better than the mechanism can be explained in words for a layman. The importance of this invention cannot be understood by people who have little use for tools, but it means that the corner bugaboo no longer exists for carpenters and that the change from the old methods of working in such places is almost revolutionary.

Paintings of Primitive Man.

Prehistoric paintings recently unearthed show man to be more like an ape. The only known examples of paintings of men by prehistoric cave decorators have been discovered lately by Professor Rene Lezard in the Portel grotto, a cave of Lourdes, in Arles, France, where Nougat already had found quaternary remains and human bones. About forty sketches in black or red, only one in both colors, adorn the cave as frescoes, and two represent men of a primitive type, while the others show bison, boars and horses. Of the human figures one has a long head, with protruding forehead, while the other shows a remarkable apelike pose, with rounded back and arms pendent in front. There is a crocheting bear, but the horses are mostly galloping and poorly drawn, although the forequarters of a horse are quite skillfully figured in black on one of the darkest walls of the cavern.

We Are Dying Younger.

In view of all that has been said about the fall in the death rate, it seems strange to realize that we are not living so long as our grandfathers and grandmothers did.

More babies live to grow up nowadays than formerly, but fewer in later life die younger. Once arrived at adult age the average man or woman has fewer years of survival to expect.

This seems on the face of it so surprising a statement that in order to be accepted it should be backed up by data authentic and indisputable. Such data are furnished by the figures of the insurance companies, which all agree on the point, but it is easier to defer to the government census reports, which tell the tale in simple and convincing fashion. Even starting with fifteen years the death rate among all persons over fifty-five years of age of

SEA BATHING.

The Effects of Salt Air and Water on the Human Body.

There is a reason why parents have in all times and in all ages endeavored to give their children the benefit of sea air and sea bathing. An Italian physician, Gerosa, tells about it:

It is agreed, he says, that all living organisms begin their first existence in salt water and that as a result the human body and indeed every animal body is largely made up of salt. If you taste your blood or your tears, which are the extract of blood, you will find that both are quite salt in flavor. More than this, however, every living being possesses within his body, in the cellular stage, all those strange marine organisms which we study so curiously in museums. And, seeing says Gerosa, that the amount of sea water contained in every body is equal to one-third of that body's weight, it is clear that in the infinitesimally rudimentary form all known marine life must be present in the blood. The result is that when we bathe in the sea or breathe the sea air we replace the amount of essential salt which is constantly decreasing in the system and, all unconsciously to ourselves, weakening it. Salt water, says Gerosa, is really the main principle of life, since it is the first condition of existence which the living organisms knew. It is therefore always good for the body, whether it be enjoyed at the seaside or brought in bottles from the sea. In particular it is very valuable in the case of weakening children, and there is no bodily stimulus so invigorating to the very young as sea water.

THE VOODOO IN HAITI.

Human Sacrifices to the God of the Serpent.

There is ample proof that human beings have been offered as sacrifices to the god of the serpent in Haiti. A French archbishop of the island describes a visit made by one of the priests to voodoo assembly. The man had disguised himself as a negro, and he was thus able to mingle undetected with the crowd in the obscurity outside the sacred circle. After the white cock and white goat had been slain and offered up and their blood had been sprinkled on the company a burly negro came forward and prostrated himself before the priest. Then, still kneeling, he made his prayer:

"O maman, I have a favor to ask of thee."

"What is it, my son?" said the negress encouragingly.

"Will thou not give us, to complete the sacrifice, the goat without horns?" The priest gave a sign of assent. The crowd roundabout separated, and there was revealed a child sitting with its head bound. The French priest rushed away in search of assistance in preventing the unholy rite, but the authorities on whom he called were strangely unhelpful. When, finally, on the day following, they arrived at the place of assembly, they found the gruesome remains of a sacrifice and a feast, among them the boiled skull of the child—Marvin Dana in Metropolitan Magazine.

When Men Hurry.

"Singular," said a man waiting for a train on an elevated railroad platform and looking down a street to where a hundred men and boys had gathered around two wagons that had come together in collision. "There are a hundred men standing around those two wagons, just standing there, gawping, apparently with nothing else to do and not in a bit of a hurry, but let any one of those men come up the stairs to this platform when there is a train coming in and he'd rush and hurry and tear himself apart to catch a train and get giddy if he missed it. They know very well that there'd be another train here in a minute. Let him miss a train by a second and he thinks the world is coming to an end; let him see somebody hoisting a safe up the outside of a building and he will stop and waste half an hour."

"How do you account for that?"—New York Sun.

Mme. de Struve's Wit.

Secretary Blaine had said of Mme. de Struve that she was the brightest woman he had ever met, and everybody who knew her agreed with this verdict. Her knowledge of English was remarkable, even for a Russian, and her sallies were famous. For instance, the day when Secretary Blaine was made head of the American diplomatic service his daughter, Miss Kate Bayard, said, laughing, to the young secretary of legation, "Remember, I am now daughter of your chief!" to which came, quick as a flash, the retort from Mme. de Struve's lips: "Oh, we all know that you are mischievous!"—Army and Navy Life.

His Terms Varied.

"I give a little reception next Thursday evening, and I should like some music, piano solos particularly. What about?" This was a lady to a professional instrumentalist. "Def I go zero simply as a musician," was the reply, "and play my selections and leave charge life guitars, but def I must go as a guest and attend to whole evenings talking to you pack of fools I charge den guineas!"—London Graphic.

A Sure Thing.

She—Did father say anything about you being too young? He—Well, yes; but he said I'd age never rapidly after we were married and I found I had to pay your bills.—Illustrated Dits.

A hapless dog that is quite well-known in the city, we must

The Weather.

FOR KENTUCKY—Partly
cloudy and cooler Thursday.

Detroit defeated Chicago Tuesday and won the American League Baseball Pennant, and the tie in the National League between New York and Chicago will be played off to-day.

Bryan in Iowa and Taft in Missouri continued to sweep round the circle Tuesday, and last night met at the chamber of commerce banquet in Chicago and both made speeches on non-political subjects.

Registration in the cities of Kentucky showed that the people are going to vote if they are saying but little about politics. Democratic gains were made in Owensboro, Mt. Sterling and Richmond.
The registration was very heavy and a full vote may be expected. The stay-at-home vote is preparing to get out this year.

Congressman A. O. Stanley, and John C. Worsham, his Republican opponent for Congress in the Second district, met in joint debate at Henderson Tuesday night before 5,000 people. The night rider situation was the subject and national issues were not touched upon.

Mr. Stanley indignantly denied the charge of his opponent that his speeches had incited lawlessness, and also paid his respects to Gov. Willson and E. T. Frank. The crowd was largely for Stanley and cheered him with much enthusiasm.

No crime since the days of savage warfare has so outraged the law in Kentucky as the massacre of a whole family of negroes at Hickman Saturday night, as they ran from their burning home begging for mercy that was not shown even to the mother and infant children. Simon Girty in his palmy days was never guilty of a more brutal and atrocious deed. And yet the press dispatches say no excitement has followed the crime in the vicinity.
The eyes of the whole country are upon Hickman county.

Longworth denies that he predicted
two more terms for Roosevelt after eight years for Taft. His statement follows:

"I said: Ohio would not be selfish and would yield to some other state
—perhaps New York—to nominate the next president.

I had no particular candidate in mind, New York coming first into my mind because of the presence of Mr. Sherman on the platform. At this point many people shouted
'Roosevelt,' and the audience cheered his name loudly." As Sherman is not presidential time, Nick's explanation hardly explains.

Two reporters have made affidavit that he was correctly quoted.

UNHEARD-OF ATROCITY.

Massacre of Negroes By the Night Riders, Near Hickman.

Hickman, Ky., Oct. 5.—The bodies of Dave Walker and his family, dead and dying, were allowed to lie out in the open all night Saturday and the injured received no medical attention until Sunday afternoon. There is no clue to the night riders who are guilty.

Fifty men wreaked a terrible revenge upon Dave Walker, colored,
said to have carried a white woman and charged also with having drawn a revolver upon a white man, by setting fire to his house Saturday night and shooting him and members of his family as they emerged from the burning cabin. Walker, his five-year-old daughter and a small baby were killed outright, while the mother, who was carrying the baby in her arms at the time it met its death, wound, was shot through the stomach and will die. Three other children were shot down and may die as a result of their wounds, while the oldest son of Walker is missing. It is believed that he was burned alive in the cabin.

NIGHT RIDERS SURROUND HOUSE.

The night riders, numbering about fifty, surrounded the home of Walker shortly before midnight and commanded him to come out and take a whipping. Walker declined whereupon the saturated timbers of the house with coal oil and set fire to them. In an incredible space of time the house was a mass of flames and the shrieks of those on the inside were horrible to hear. Finally Walker, pleading for mercy, threw open the door of his cabin and ran out into the open.
He was riddled with bullets and fell screaming to the ground.

SHOOT BABY IN MOTHER'S ARMS.

Following close upon the heels of her husband Walker's wife appeared in the doorway. She held in her arms their infant child and begged the night riders for mercy. Disregarding her pleadings, the infuriated mob opened fire and a bullet pierced the body of the infant in its mother's arms. A second shot struck the mother in the abdomen and she fell, holding the dead body of her infant.

NIGHT HIDEOUS WITH SCREAMS.

Terror-stricken by the flames, which were licking all sides of the cabin, yet fearing to venture into the open, the remaining children of Walker made the night hideous with their screams. The five-year-old daughter was the first to venture through the doorway, following the face of their mother, father and the baby, but three other children followed close at their heels. The girl was killed outright, and the other children received wounds which it is believed will prove fatal. There has hardly a doubt but that the oldest son of Walker preferred death by burning rather than to place himself at the mercy of the mob, and it is probable that his charred body will be found among the debris.

COMPEL MAN TO WATCH HORSES.

Before arriving at the home of Walker the night riders stopped at the home of Joe Williams, a white man, and compelled him to accompany them to the scene of the slaughter. When the night riders dismounted they left Williams to look after the horses a short distance away.

Walker and his family lay all day Sunday on the spot where they were shot. A negro doctor went out to see them, but for fear of night riders refused to go back again. There were seven in the family, three being killed outright, three wounded who will die and one missing, who is supposed to have perished in the burning building.

Tom Bone, a white man and neighbor, who heard the shots, rushed over toward the house. The night riders stopped him and turned him got home in a hurry.

No excitement prevails here. No arrests have been made. The susposition is that there will be none.
Late yesterday afternoon coffins were sent out and the dead were buried by white people.

Saved Sister's Life.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 5.—Told that unless the operation of skin grafting was resorted to, his ten year-old sister, Helen, would die
from burns received August 10, Samuel Tenenbaum, aged 17 years, volunteered to furnish the skin, and at the St. Vincent Infirmary the operation was performed.

The boy and his sister were placed on adjoining operating tables, anesthetics were given and more than eighty square inches of skin was removed from young Tenenbaum's thighs and applied to the unhealed sores on his sister's breast.

BEFORE GRAND JURY

Gov. Willson Was Summoned but Declined to Divulge for Present.

Gov. Willson was summoned before the grand jury Tuesday, at the instance of County Attorney John C. Duffy, but it is understood the Governor declined to divulge the evidence that has been gathered against night riders. In discussing the affair afterward he said that the information he possessed was from reports received from his men, and was therefore incompetent before a grand jury, as he did not have personal knowledge of the fact. He said that he had the evidence, though, in proper form, and that when the time came it would be laid before the grand jury that wanted it. He left at 11:30 o'clock for Princeton, where he made a speech that afternoon.

OLD OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

tion Organizes New Committee.

EWING AND FORT

Are Both Retained And No
Opposition Developed--
Mr. Radford Loses.

Cuthrie, Ky., Oct. 7.—The board of directors of the Planters' Protective association elected officers for the ensuing year as follows:
Felix G. Ewing, general manager;
Charles H. Fort, president; J. W.
Usher, of Graves county, vice-president; Jno. D. Scales, auditor; Guy
S. Dunning, general inspector; W.
C. Warfield, of Adams, Tenn., Ed.
Miller, of Paducah, and J. O. Bell, of Cobb, graders. The elections of secretary and treasurer have not yet been made.

The elections all passed off most harmoniously. The opposition to Mr. Ewing and Mr. Fort, which was currently reported some time ago, failed to materialize.

W. W. Radford, of Christian county, was endorsed for general inspector by his county committee but Guy
Dunning was re-elected.

In the twinkling of an eye.
Water shall still more wonders do—
Now strange—shall yet be true.
The world upside down shall be,
And gold be found at root of tree.
Through hills men shall ride,
And no horse or ass be at his side,
Under water men shall walk,
Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk.
In the air men shall be seen,
In white, in black, in green.
Iron in the water shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found—and found
In a land that's not now known.
Fire and water shall wonders do,
England shall at last admit a Jew.
The world to an end shall come,
In eighteen hundred eighty-one.

We are giving free $7.50 worth of ware at our store next week. See

IN MEN'S CLOTHES

Authorities at Ellis Island
Decide to Permit Woman to Wear Male Attire.

New York, Oct. 5.—The Ellis Island immigration authorities, who had detained Miss Mary Johnson the Canadian woman, when she arrived here on the American liner
New York, under the assumed name of "Frank Wood Hull," and wearing men's clothes, today decided to allow her to proceed to her destination, New Orleans, still garbed in masculine attire.

Miss Johnson, fifty years old, and of masculine appearance, had declared to the authorities that having been born unpossessing as a woman, she had found herself practically shut off from earning a living, and only as a man had she been able during the last fifteen years to earn a regular income as a book agent and maintain her respectability.

BANQUET TO THE BAND BOYS

Mr. W. A. Wilgus the Host
At a Six O'clock Dinner
at Hotel Latham.

INFORMAL SPEECHES

Followed By a Concert By the Band In Lobby Of the Hotel.

Mr. W. A. Wilgus was the host at a dinner given Monday night to the musicians of Lebkuecher's Band, in the Ordinary at Hotel Latham.
Present were Bandmaster H. L.
Lebkuecher, sixteen members of the band and Messrs. R. H. DeTreville, H. Clay Smith, T. C. Underwood
and Chas. M. Meacham.

A delightful menu was served, beginning with oyster cocktail and ending with cigars, following which several informal speeches were made.

Mr. W. A. Wilgus was down on the program as (Chin) Music Director and touched off the speakers.

Mr. T. C. Underwood talked pathetically to the subject "O, Listen to the Band," saying much about the band and some good things off his subject.

Prof. H. Clay Smith's subject "To Be or Not Tuba," gave that accompanied after-dinner speaker an opportunity to make one of his happiest speeches.

Bandmaster Lebkuecher spoke on "Music's Big Stick" and reviewed the struggles of his band and thanked all who had helped to bring about its present success.

Mayor Meacham spoke "The Last Sad Strain" and made everybody glad when the time came to go down into the lobby and listen to the concert that closed the evening's program.

Mr. Wilgus was presented with a beautiful gold-headed silk umbrella
by the members of the band.

Prominent Todd County Man Succumbs to Paralysis.

Elkton, Ky., Oct. 5.—W. B. Brewer, one of the most prominent citizens of Todd county, died at his home in Fairview this morning at 10 o'clock. He had been in ill health for some time and his condition has been serious since an attack of paralysis two weeks ago. He was about 50 years of age and is survived by his wife and two sons. He was editor of the Fairview Review, was several times Democratic nominee for Representative at the last election and ran ahead of his ticket, though defeated by the Republican landslide. He was prominent in fraternal orders, being a Knight Tem-plar, Knight of Pythias, Mason and Elk. The funeral will be held in Fairview Tuesday morning under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity.

The Majestic Mfg. Co. of St. Louis, Mo., will have a man at our store all next week who will show you how to

MACK SEES VICTORY

Perfectly Confident of Election of Bryan and Kern.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Returning to Chicago to take up the Democratic campaign direction in the west, Norman E. Mack, Chairman of the Democratic National committee, declared that the tide was strong for Bryan in the East, and that if the Democrats could hold their advantage there the Democratic ticket would be surely elected. To the Associated Press Chairman Mack
gave the following statement:

"I have been three weeks in the East, where I have studied the political situation from every angle. I have noted every drift and current, and today I am prepared to say that if we hold the steady gains we have made in the last two months the election is sure. New York is going Democratic; in fact, there will be a landslide for Bryan in the Empire
State, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Maryland, Delaware and Ohio will also be found in the Democratic column.

"The reports from state and county chairman in the Middle West are equally encouraging. Indiana is safely Democratic; even the Republicans don't seriously claim it.

Mr. Mack said that President Roosevelt's letters had helped the Democrats.

Nothing Equals Pe-ru-na For Serious Kidney Trouble.

MR. W. F. CLOW

Kidney Affection, Asthma.
Mr. W. F. Clow, 428 E. St. Vrain St., Colorado Springs, Col., a retired real estate man, writes:

"I am a man of over seventy years and feel that I owe my present good health entirely to Peruna. I began using it about a year ago for asthma and kidney trouble, and took several bottles. I have not felt better for years. Different members of my family have used it also, and have only words of praise to speak for Peruna."

Attributes Health to Pe-ru-na.

William Bailey, 58 I St., N. E., Washington, D. C., Past Col. Encampment No. 69, Union Veteran Legion, and prominently identified with many of the great labor protective associations in Chicago and New York, and Secretary of one of the largest associations in the former city, had for nearly thirty years been afflicted with kidney troubles. Within a short period he has been persuaded to try Peruna, and his present healthy condition is attributed to his judicious use of that great remedy. He considers himself now quite cured and in excellent physical condition.

Mr. John N. Watkins, 3138 Shenandoah Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes:

"Among all the greatly advertised medicines for kidney and bladder trouble there is nothing which equals Peruna. I suffered for several years with this trouble, spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicine and all to no purpose, until I took Peruna. One bottle did me more good than all the others put together, as they only poisoned my system. Peruna cured me. I used it for four months before a complete cure was accomplished, but am truly grateful to you. The least I can do in return is to acknowledge the merits of Peruna."

SECOND TRIAL WINFREE CASE

Circuit Court Deep In The Hearings Of The Arguments.

JURY FROM A WHEEL.

Other Court Matters Of
More Or Less Importance.

The trial of W. P. Winfree, Jr., which was begun last Saturday, has taken up all of the time of Circuit Court this week and is still in progress. The defendant is a young attorney who killed policeman Chas. E. Hord on Dec. 10, 1907. Hord had arrested Winfree for disorderly conduct and he was taken to police headquarters in the patrol wagon and fined. After leaving the headquarters he went home and secured a pistol, and approaching Hord while he was on his beat, near the L. & N. depot, shot him through the body, inflicting a wound that soon caused his death. The case was tried at the last term of court and resulted in a mistrial. Congress man Stanley appeared as one of the attorneys for the defense in the former trial, but is not in the case this time.

The attorneys for defendant are C. H. Bush, John Feland, Joe McCarroll, and his father, Judge W. P. Winfree. The prosecuting attorney, Denny Smith, is assisted by city attorney Walter Knight. The empanelling of a jury took up most of three days, as the jury wheel was resorted to altogether. As finally accepted it stood:

THE JURY.

Thompson Cavanaugh, J. H. Johnson, Carl Long, J. West, Jas. McKinney, W. S. Henderson, J. B. Anderson, F. A. Yancey, J. G. Yancey, J. A. White, G. M. Lacy and A. B. Johnson.

The taking of testimony for the state was concluded about three o'clock Tuesday. The case as presented before was made somewhat stronger by the ruling of Judge Cook that the character of officer Hord could not be attacked. This ruling shut out some damaging testimony admitted before.

The defendant took the stand about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and repeated his former version of the affair without material change. The examination of witnesses for the defense was concluded yesterday afternoon and argument began at three o'clock. The court allowed three hours to the side. John Feland was speaking when the Kentuckian went to press.

SENT TO JAIL

For Refusing to Testify Before Grand Jury.

The grand jury is making a vigorous attempt to find out about gambling at picnics last summer. F. G. Petre was summoned before the body yesterday morning and refusing to take was sent to jail by Judge Cook "until he decided to talk." He was firm in his refusal to give information. Commonwealth's Attorney Smith says the court has authority to keep him in jail indefinitely, as every minute that he refuses to talk is a new offense.

Died of Tuberculosis

The wife of Ned Turner, col. of the firm of J. R. Hawkins & Co., died yesterday of tuberculosis, aged 53 years. She had been ill several months.

Walter Wellman discusses the political chances in New York State, which he declares, Bryan must carry to be elected, and tells of the doubt as to the labor vote and the strong drift of wage-earners to Bryan. He sees reasons, however, to believe the state will line up for Taft by possibly not more than 10,000 or 20,000.

Gov. Willson spoke at Princeton and Paducah Tuesday and will conclude his Western Kentucky speeches at Madisonville Saturday.

Judge Wallace Hancock and Dr. J. W. Crenshaw, of Cadiz, were here yesterday.

RATIONAL CURE FOR ECZEMA

No More Dosing the Stomach—Cure the Skin Through the Skin.

When you have a scratch on your hand you wash it out and cleanse it and then the skin cures itself. You do not take blood medicine to cure a festering wound.

The best skin specialists today are agreed that the only way to cure the skin is through the skin.

The fact that eczema is a skin disease is evident from statistics which show that nearly all eczema sufferers are perfectly healthy in all other ways except as to their skin. If the eczema patients were really suffering from an inward malady, the entire body and not only the skin would be diseased.

You can prove immediately the relief of a true skin cure by using oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. Prescription.

This liquid attacks the disease germs, numbing them while building up the healthy tissue of the skin. We have now handled this meritorious and thoroughly scientific remedy for so long and have seen its reliable result so many times that we freely express our confidence.

TRAGEDY

Business Man Assassinated by Farmer Over Old Grudge.

Dawson Springs, Ky., Oct. 5.—After he had left town to escape trouble, Joe Holeman, a prominent liverman of this city, came back Saturday afternoon only to be fatally shot by Floyd Snyder, a farmer. The shooting took place on the sidewalk in front of Holeman's home. Great excitement and violence is feared if Snyder is caught. He escaped on horseback directly after the shooting and got across the border into Caldwell county.

The registration Tuesday was the heaviest ever recorded in Hopkinsville on the first day. The total last year was 1728, of which 1043 were white and 685 colored. As divided politically there were 787 Democrats, 784 Republicans and 157 Independents. In the election that followed the Republican ticket received 897 votes and the Democratic ticket 611, a Republican majority of 286.

The following table shows the registration this year by districts:

	White	Col.	D.	I.	R.	Total
No. 1	174	147	94	41	186	321
No. 2	68	400	40	28	400	466

Fully 100 more voters may be expected to be added to the list at the supplementary registration Oct. 26, 27, 28.

NEW TUNNELING DEVICE.

Machine Bore Through Rock at Rate of Twenty Feet a Day.

A machine invented by Olin S. Proctor of Denver promises to revolutionize the boring of tunnels, according to the New York World. The machine will tunnel through solid rock at the rate of twenty to forty feet a day, varying with the hardness of the rock. Formerly two or three men, working with drills and glycerine sticks, could do no more than five feet a day at the best. Instead of leaving jagged apertures that have to be chiseled and propped, the new machine in its boring smooths the sides as it goes. In one day two men can do with this machine what it would cost $500 to do under the old, tedious method. The machine is twenty-three feet long and has a head of eight feet, just the size of the boring. In this head, made of well tempered steel, are twenty-four drills, each working independently and run by its separate pipe of air. These chisel out their own bores in the rock, giving a sharp, glancing chip 900 times a minute. The whole head rotates once a minute, exerting a terrific pressure on the drills, scraping up the chipped material and throwing it back into a "conveyor belt" that takes it to a car in the rear.

HEAD OF TUNNELING MACHINE.

The head itself has the appearance of four large scoops spreading around the network of drills. The power for turning this head and exerting the pressure is an engine of 500 horsepower. The cog wheel underneath the machine, capable of speeding at 5,000 revolutions a minute, but held down to 1,000, is the force behind the head.

If one drill is disabled the others go on working just as before, and the broken or blunted one can be replaced immediately. If the face of the rock is variable in quality the boring is made through the soft and hard stone at precisely the same time. This smooth chipping is insured by an air cushion regulating the severity of the pressure.

After a struggle. An angler returned at eventide laden with a single placatolar burden of a size and weight which ought to have instantly commanded the admiration and respect of his wife. But she looked upon it with a cold and unenthused eye when her husband slumped it weightily down upon the table with a triumphant "There, Maria, what do you think of that for a catch? And the terrific struggle before I landed it you'd hardly believe!" "Oh, yes, I would," said Maria laudly. "I witnessed the disgraceful haggling and bargaining which went on for half an hour outside the salomonger's before he and you came in."

THE PILLORY.

Titus Oates and Daniel Defoe Both Suffered in It.

In the year 1837 the British parliament passed an act that put an end to the punishment by pillory. Previous to the conquest this particular instrument of correction was in use in England and went by the name of the "stretch neck." It consisted of a wooden frame erected on a stool in which were three holes for the head and hands. The three together offenders against the common law were thus exposed to public view. From historic accounts it appears that this particular form of punishment was meted out to those convicted of frauds of every description not only in England, but in nearly every country in Europe. In the days of the star chamber, when religious feeling ran high, the pillory was the ordinary punishment meted out to those who offended against the church. In 1685 Titus Oates was sentenced to be pilloried for five days in every year during the rest of his life. Another famous sufferer was Daniel Defoe, the author of "Robinson Crusoe," who stood for three days in the pillory in Chesham. It happened on occasions that the offender died while undergoing his sentence, and in such cases the exposure of the condemned man was not allowed to receive food of any sort or description. The last occasion on which a pillory was used was passed was in 1814—London Globe.

A KING'S HOBBY.

The Mania of Frederick William I. For Collecting Giants.

Of all the manias that afflict mankind the most ancient and curious is probably that for collecting. The vic- tims collect pretty nearly everything from books to shoe buckles and from pots to postage stamps, but giant collecting was the hobby of Frederick William I., king of Prussia. Nature designed him for a recruiting officer; destiny made him a monarch. All were fish who came to his net—Saxons, Austrians, Hessians, Turks, Swedes, Englishmen, Irishmen, Africans—provided they were at least two yards long. Some of his specimens were seven feet long. Now and then he obtained one still more prodigious.

The Saxon cabinet minister Wackerbarth, foreseeing the possible advantages of standing well with no neighbor, in 1715 dispatched to Berlin a recognition of his Prussian majesty's birthday, Aug. 14, no less flattering than unique, since it consisted of a large bundle of tobacco leaves, two handsome Turkish pipes and a bagful of fragrant Lavakia, all committed to the hands of seven foot passengers, with a massive imploring the king's gracious acceptance of these trifles and the Cupid who bore them.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Most of us owe debts of gratitude to strangers whose kindly smile has sent sunshine into our aching hearts and has given us courage when we were disheartened.

It is a great thing to go through life with a smiling face. It costs little, but who can ever estimate its value? Think how the pleasure of life would be increased if we met smiling faces everywhere—faces which radiate hope, sunshine and cheer! What a joy it would be to travel in a gallery of living pictures radiating hope and courage!

Who can estimate what beautiful, smiling faces mean to the wretched and the downcast, those whose life burdens are crushing them?

Many of us carry precious memories of smiling faces which we glimpsed but once, but whose sweet, uplifting expression will remain with us forever.—Success Magazine.

She Was Deliberate.

It is said that Dinah Mulock Crank, the famous author of "John Halifax, Gentleman," made a habit of leaving at her bank the manuscript of each of her stories as soon as it was completed. It would remain there perhaps six months, and then she would call for it and see how the story affected her after that lapse of time. If it pleased her, the manuscript was sent to the publisher. Otherwise it was rewritten or thrown away.

Ear Wagging.

Only animals with long and drooping ears are able to wag them. A rabbit, for instance, can do what it likes with its ear, dropping one or both and laying them flat along its back when dashing through thick cover. Hares are still more brisk in ear movements. But short eared beasts, like weasels and stoats, are unable to wag their ears in any degree, although they have enough ear to wag if they had the power.

Accidents.

"See here, landlady," said an angry tenant after he had signed the contract for a year, "this house is full of sewer gas."

Everybody Satisfied. He prided himself on having the largest general store in the county. "If Man Wishes It and It is Made I Have It," was the sign over his store and the motto which capped all his advertisements in the newspapers. "William," said he one morning as he was giving instructions to a green clerk, "no one must ever leave this store without making a purchase. If a person doesn't know what he wants, suggest something. And, remember, we have everything, from carpet tacks to muslin and lace. The first customer was a leisurely chap who gazed about curiously, but had no definite object in view. "Just looking around," he explained. "Wouldn't you like to take a look at our new line of post cards?" suggested the eager clerk. "No, not this time," answered the stranger. "I'm just a little short this morning."

"Ah," urged the new clerk, who was not familiar with the wonderful slang terms of the language, "perhaps you'd like to look at our line of new and handsome stretchers."—Sketchy Bits.

The Swaying Skyscraper.

Through the chance perfect adjustment in the way of balance of a row of large photographs that hang on the wall of an office on the twenty-second floor of an office building downtown the clerks in the place have a good deal of quiet amusement. The persons who visit the place for the first time owing to this balance the pictures are easily swayed by the wind that blows through the open windows, and since the office force goes in for fresh air the year round the pictures are never still. The joke lies in catching the horrified expression on the faces of the callers, when they get a sight of the swaying frames. Then it is always explained with due solemnity if the boss is not around that the swaying of the frames is due to the oscillation of the structure. It usually takes some time for the object of the joke to see the point. Meanwhile he has suffered a considerable shock.—New York Press.

Rifle and Smooth Bore.

The main difference between a rifle and a smooth bore gun is that the inner surface of the rifle barrel has one or more spiral grooves cut into it. The object of this is to permit a portion of the material of the bullet or projectile to sink into the grooves. As the projectile is forced out of the barrel these projections into the grooves tend to remain there, thus giving rise to a spinning motion. In fact, it is not only going forward, but is rotating rapidly as it goes. The axis will tend in accordance with the gyroscopic principle to maintain without change its direction. But that is really saying that the projectile will tend to remain in its true course. So this is why a rifled gun shoots straighter than a smooth bore.—St. Nicholas.

When One Spends Money.

One would think that money would be saved in prosperous times when there is plenty of it about. But no; that is not the time when it is saved. It is then that it is spent. Everybody spends it—governments, railroads, corporations, capitalists, housekeepers, house builders, collectors. People expand their wants in such times and satisfy some of them, and then is when it is most of all impossible to live on anything a year. But after all the money has been spent a few times over and has come to be scarce and borrowing has come to be a serious matter and folks have much less to spend and no expectations then everybody groans and begins to save, not only trying desperately to squeeze back inside of the bounds of income, but to pay back what was spent in expectation of a time when saving would have become convenient. To most of us that time never comes. And yet there are things for which we spend more than we can afford, that really do justify our expenditures, so that after the money has been spent there is no need to be lachrymose. If we would still rather have what it bought than have the money back.—Appleton's.

Napoleon at Dinner.

Napoleon was no epicure. He usually drank nothing but diluted champagne and was no judge of wine. He liked plain dinners—bottles of roast chicken, mutton chops, grilled neck of mutton, haricot beans or lentils. His table manners were not very refined. He would use his finger in lieu of fork or spoon and would dip his bread in the sauce, the dish being then passed round to guests, who had to dispense with squeamishness. The bread had to be particularly good. He ate fast, quitting the table in twelve minutes and leaving Josephine and the company to take their time. When he died alone he commonly took only eight or ten minutes. Indigestion was the natural consequence of this speed, and he had sometimes to stretch himself at full length on the carpet till the pain abated. He detested physic and professed to disbelieve in it, a subject of playful discussion with his doctors. Constant Year knew him to be obliged to keep his bed a whole day. He was very sensitive to cold and had fire and warm beds all the year.

The Exact Situation.

The teacher of the best school had invited Tommy, ten years of age, to accompany her to a concert and called for him on her way. The family were all seated at the breakfast table when Miss Lyndon knocked at the door. Tommy ran to admit her, hastily swallowing a final mouthful of cake. "I am a little early perhaps," said Miss Lyndon. "I'm ten in the middle of supper."

"Oh, no," said Tommy, with airy politeness; "oh, no, not at all. Supper's especially in the treatment of a very large class of cases that were being mistreated by many physicians through ignorance of their real nature.

This necessitated coming to the root of things in two special senses,—first, CAREFUL, EXHAUSTIVE STUDY TO KNOW what was the real cause of the innumerable aches, pains, drains and weaknesses which afflicted women, and AGAIN TO THE ROOTS which Nature had provided so plentifully for the PHYSICIAN OF MARKING. Thoroughly convinced that alcohol, stimulants and medicines prepared with alcohol did far more harm than good, Dr. Pierce prepared his remedies, extracted their virtues and preserved them without alcohol, then, guided by actual experience, formed combinations by which a minimum of medicine produced the maximum result. This insured his success and gave him the reputation of "the success specialist," and, quite naturally, the prescription that he thus used most became the "FAVORITE" and the origin of that had run into great popularity because it cured more than ninety-eight out of every hundred of the cases in which it was correctly used.

One of the important ingredients in this now world-famous "Favorite Prescription" is

BLUE COHOSH ROOT,

which was in great repute among the American Indians a century ago. The squaws used it for the relief of their special troubles, particularly for the easing of the pains of maternity, called it "Pawpaw root." Then there are four other ingredients in this "Prescription," namely: Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Golden Seal root and Uterine root.

It Stands Alone not only in its known composition, but also in its only specific, advertised remedy for woman's diseases which absolutely contains no ALCOHOL.

It Stands Alone as the one medicine the makers of which take their patients fully into their confidence and tell them exactly what they are taking. This Pierce can afford to do, because his "Favorite Prescription" is made of such ingredients and after a working formula that has thousands of cures to its credit, placing its merits above criticism.

SOCIALISM AND M. O.

Socialists Regard Municipal Ownership as a Step in the Right Direction.

At the recent labor conference at Hull, England, a resolution was adopted to the effect that "socialism is the definite object of the Labor party." This party has steadily favored municipal ownership, but until this year has been unwilling to take the most logical and logical step of endorsing socialism. This action just taken is helpful to a clearer understanding of the relation between the two movements. Socialism stands for the collective ownership of all the means of production; municipal ownership stands for the collective ownership of a part of the means of production. The difference is one of degree, not of kind, and in Great Britain no logical line of demarcation between the two has been found.

In this country, too, the Socialist is making full use of municipal ownership. He well knows that many people will take tickets for a short ride on the street cars, but he knows that they will be frightened away if urged to buy a through ticket. The main point is to get them started toward their ultimate goal. After a while they will be enlisted in favor of municipal ownership. It is comparatively easy to get him to accept the principle of public ownership of production. That is why coal mines, although he may still not be ready to accept the whole Socialist programme, collective ownership of all the means of production, for the simple reason that he is apt to be an owner or part owner of some "means of production" himself—e. g., a shop or a store or a share of stock in a manufacturing plant. That is why the national platform of the Socialist party is discreetly silent on some of the cardinal doctrines of socialism. The real purpose of the ownership of all the means of production is therefore toned down to a demand for—

"The collective ownership of railroads, telegraphs, telephones, gas and water works, and all other means of transportation and communication and all land."

"The collective ownership of all industries which are organized on a national scale and in which competition has virtually ceased to exist."

"The extension of the public domain to include mines, quarries, oil wells, forests and water power."

The platform is silent about municipal ownership of lighting plants and waterworks because M. O. people are attending to that part of the Socialist programme, leaving the thoroughgoing Socialist free to concentrate his efforts on the second part of the programme as outlined above. It may look enticing, but remember that socialism doesn't intend to stop with public utilities and big corporations nor does it have swallowed up in the great state machine every vestige of private ownership of everything except what a man wears on his back or needs to furnish his home.

HITS DETROIT CITY PLANT.

Aldermen Point Out Weak Place in Municipal Management.

"If the truth were known," said Alderman R. M. Watson of Detroit while in Milwaukee, "we are paying more for electric light in Detroit at the municipal plant than we could get it for from a private corporation. Our plant is obsolete."

The delegation of Detroit aldermen told Commissioner Jensen of the city's experience with municipal heating. When the Detroit city hall was half its present size it cost the city $10,000 a year to heat it by a municipal plant in the building. The Detroit Central Heating company now heats the enlarged building for $3,000 a year.

The visitors said Detroit was confused as to what to do about the street railway system when the franchises expire in two years. The visitors said the city government of Detroit lost money on the three cent fare because the three cent fare roads do not have to maintain the pavement between the tracks, while the four cent roads do.

Alderman Watson says that the board of estimate in Detroit has persistently refused to appropriate money to keep the municipal electric lighting plant up to date and that as a result the time will soon come when the entire expense of replacing the plant will have to be met in one year instead of gradually from year to year, and the cost of electric light will be proportionately—Milwaukee Journal.

A City Free From Debt.

On May 15, 1908, the city of Kokomo, Ind., paid the last dollar of its indebtedness. Its mayor, Hon. Will H. Arnett, contributes an article on the subject to the June issue of the City Hall, from which the following quotation is taken:

"Whatever may be said of the merits of municipal ownership elsewhere, the city of Kokomo is a signal example of what may be done with private corporations when dealt with by men of judgment and integrity. Her contracts are fair and reasonable, and her rates are not burdensome. Perhaps no stronger argument against municipal ownership could be offered than the present condition of the city of Kokomo in relation to its public service corporations."

Another Plant For Sale.

A recent newspaper item dated at Peas, Mo., reads thus:

"The city council of Peas has offered to sell the city electric light plant to a St. Louis syndicate for $10,000, and it is believed the proposition will be accepted by the syndicate."

At a mass meeting recently held in Fort Branch, Ind., to consider the purchase by the town of the local electric plant the proposition was rejected.

Slang That is Classic.

"Escape with the skin of my teeth" is from Job. "He is a brick" is from Plutarch. That historian tells of a king of Sparta who boasted that his army was the only wall of the city. "And every man is a brick." We call a fair and honest man "a square man," but the Greeks described the same person as "Tetragonus"—a four-cornered man.—Scraps Book.

Circumstantial Evidence.
Recent excavations at Pompeii have uncovered the remains of a man with both hands resting on his stomach. This would seem to indicate that the early cucumber was not unknown to the ancients.—Sunday Magazine.

Most Disgusting Skin Eruptions.
scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood Bitters is a cleansing blood tonic. Makes you clear-eyed, clear-brained, clear-skinned.

Mothers in Factories.
Ignorance, no doubt, accounts for much of the waste of infant life, but Lancashire's industrial conditions give her her bad pre-disposition. Mother who works in the factory cannot rear her children naturally, and the care and the skill and the attention necessary for successful artificial feeding are beyond them.—Manchester Guardian.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Ayer

The Rogue.
If the truth is to be told, I suppose we all have a sneaking sympathy for the rogue. The black sheep of the family is always first favorite with his mother and his aunts; the heroes of "Smiles" "Self-Idly" will never be half so popular as Robin Hood or Rob Roy.—From the Reader.

Bird and Insect Weavers.
The art of weaving, rope and net-making is practiced by some of the lower forms of life, notably among caterpillars and spiders. The weaver birds of Africa and India, which are a species of fish, construct wonderful nests out of leaves by sewing them together.

Cultivating Joy.
In cultivating joy as one of the fruits of the Spirit, it is well to form the habit of looking on the bright side of life. Most of us put on our spectacles only to look at life's troubles.

OF THE

GREAT MAJESTIC MALLEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON RANGE

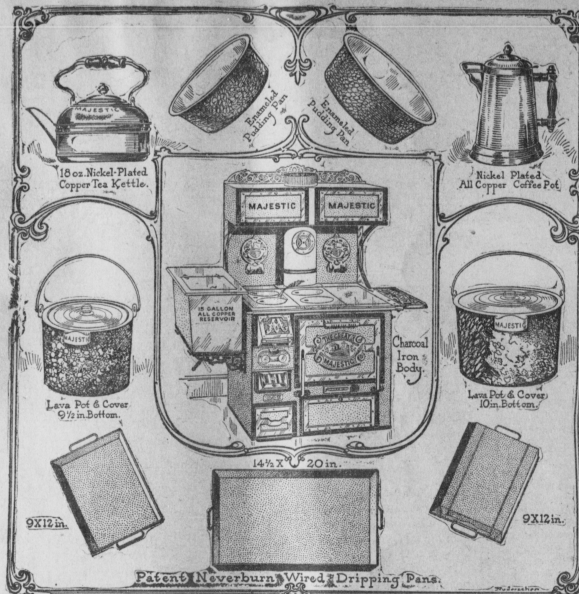

AT OUR STORE

One Week MONDAY OCT. 12, 1908. One Week

FREE!
$7.50
Set of Ware.

With every Majestic Range sold during this Cooking Exhibition, we will give absolutely FREE one handsome set of ware as shown. This ware is worth $7.50 if it is worth a cent. It is the best that can be bought. We don't add $7.50 to the price of the range and tell you you are getting the ware free, but sell all Majestic Ranges at the regular price. You get the ware free. Remember this is for exhibition week only. Ware will not be given after this week. This ware is on exhibition at our store, and must be seen to be appreciated. Come in any day during the week. Make our store your headquarters. Have coffee and biscuits with us.

Come, if you intend to buy or not; the information gained will serve you in the future.

Facts About

The Great Majestic Range

It is the only range in the world made of Malleable and Charcoal Iron.

It has, beyond any question of a doubt, the largest and best reservoir.

It uses about half the fuel used on other ranges, and does better work by far.

The Majestic All Copper Nickel-Reservoir heats the water quicker and hotter than any other. It is the only reservoir with a removable frame.

The Charcoal Iron Body of the Great Majestic Range lasts three times as long as a steel body.

Being made of non-breakable material, there is practically no expense for repairing the MAJESTIC.

As for baking, it is perfection; not only for a few months, but for all time to come.

A Great Majestic Range lasts three times as long as a cheap range, but it doesn't cost three times as much.

PROOF—We don't ask you to take our word for any of the above statements, but if you will call at our store, a man from the factory, where Majestic Ranges are made, will prove to your satisfaction that these are absolute facts, and will show you many more reasons why the Great Majestic Range is absolutely the best that money can buy.

NUPTIAL VOWS

Taken By Mr. Gregory And Miss Boyd.

The marriage of Mr. E. D. Gregory, of the Church Hill neighborhood, and Miss Susie May Boyd, of Elm Creek, Neb., occurred last evening at 6 o'clock at the residence of Mr. J. M. Adams, Church Hill. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. T. Miller, of this city. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only a limited number of the relatives and closest friends of the young people being present at the happy event.

An elegant supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Gregory were driven to the home of the groom's mother, where they will reside.

The bride is a step-daughter of Mrs. J. L. Boyd, formerly Miss Joe Slivley, of Elm Creek, and is a very pretty and charming young woman. She and her mother have been visiting relatives in the county for several weeks and Mrs. Boyd will return to Nebraska in a few days and later will go to California, where one of her sisters resides.

The groom is a prosperous young farmer and is a son of the late Hiram C. Gregory. He is well known and very popular with every one.

Wm. E. Smith, the missing student at the State University, has not yet been found and the university trustees and three classes have offered $200 reward for his discovery, making the aggregate $253. The students all vigorously deny that having had anything to do with his disappearance.

"Shall The People Rule?"

These campaign issues underlie Mr. Bryan's proposition that this year as heretofore it is a question of: "Shall the people rule?"

1. Popular election of senators.
2. Publicity of campaign contributions before election.
3. Valuation of railroads properties by the government.
4. Lowering of the tariff.
5. Injunctions.
6. The trusts.

On No. 1 the Republican platform is silent; the Democratic favors.

On No. 2 the Republican platform is silent; the Democratic is for publicity before election.

On No. 3 the Republican platform is silent; the Democratic declares for it, besides covering every commendable point set forth in the Republican utterance.

On No. 4 the Republican platform is silent; the Democratic favors.

On No. 5, the Republican platform makes vague promise; the Democratic offers protection to labor by prevention of issuance of decrees when in other than labor disputes they would not issue.

On No. 6, the Republican platform actually proposes to legalize trusts; the Democratic to prevent private monopoly.

If the foregoing omissions be endorsed and the Republican returned to power, these issues having been openly raised, what complaint can the people make if their rule be further prevented, as it has been in the past?

Could conclusion be plainer?

TERRY SALE.

Sells 387 Acres of Texas Land at Big Profit.

Thomas Terry, son of Thomas Terry, deceased, who for many years sold dry goods in LaFayette, sold his real estate at LaFayette about one year ago and moved to Amarilla, Texas. Soon after arriving there he bought 387 acres of land, about 3 1/2 miles from Amarilla, at $22.50 an acre, and has just sold it at $50 an acre.

He married some months ago and has recently built a nice residence on his farm and is keeping house. Several offers have been made him, so we presume that the last one is not a surprise to himself or his friends.

A prospector from Kansas made the purchase. Mr. Terry expects to buy more land in the vicinity of Amarilla.

FOOT BALL GAME

Friday Between Hopkinsville and Pembroke.

The local High School team will play the Pembroke High School team, Friday on the S. K. C. ground. As both teams are about the same weight a spirited contest is expected. Although several of the best men on last year's team are not at school this year a fairly good team has been developed under the coaching of Rev. C. H. H. Branch.

The admission for this game is only 15 cents and it is expected that a large crowd will attend.

It is probable that the following squad will be tried out: Dabney, H. Cate, Long, Meacham, Rudd, Feland Miller, Maves, Graves, Jarrett.
